Chiba Refinery Implements First Volunteer Beach Cleanup in Futtsu

Around 200 participants, comprising TonenGeneral Group employees and their families, including those from the TonenGeneral Sekiyu K.K. (head office: Minato-ku, Tokyo; representative: Jun Mutoh) Chiba refinery (Ichihara City, Chiba; manager: Hisashi Kakinoki), as well as TonenGeneral Group dealers and their families from the Tokyo and Chiba areas, collected driftwood and litter that had washed up on the shore in a volunteer beach cleanup held on May 22 on the Futtsu shore.

The Futtsu shore is located about 35km southwest of the Chiba refinery on Cape Futtsu, which juts into Tokyo Bay and is situated in one of Chiba's prefectural natural parks. The area, which attracts many families in summer, is known for its clear-watered beaches located near the open sea, clamdigging, and a jumbo pool. The TonenGeneral Chiba refinery considers the cleanup of such a precious area to be a meaningful contribution. The May 22 cleanup was the refinery's first such effort, and it has approached Futtsu City with its intention to continue implementing volunteer cleanups in the future.

The TonenGeneral Group believes that a company is a member of society, and we strive to be a good corporate citizen in all of the communities where we operate. The Futtsu volunteer beach cleanup is one of the Group's many social contribution activities.
