

22nd Volunteer Activity Supporting Restoration and Recovery

Date	Wednesday, March 20 , 2013
Activity site	Iwaki-shi, Fukushima
Participants	14 (4 men, 8 women, 2 administration office staff)

● Activity Details

On this occasion, our volunteer activities comprised spending a day holding a street fair at a community center attached to a temporary housing complex in Iwaki City.

We volunteer members worked from early in the morning to move supplies and set up the fair. This exhausted us right from the start, but we pressed on because we wanted the local residents to enjoy themselves at the fair.

We built four attractions inside the community center, as well as two attractions in the square outside. We also pitched three tents to serve refreshments and snacks, and provide a place for people to rest.

The street fair was held from 1:00 until 3:00 in the afternoon. The nine-hoop basketball contest and other attractions that we set up in response to the residents wanting to get some exercise were very popular. There was a constant crowd, and by the time the fair was almost over, children were imploring us to come back again soon. It was a satisfying experience to see all the people having such a great time.