Publication of the ENEOS REPORT Integrated Report 2022

ENEOS Holdings, Inc. (President: Saito Takeshi) announces the publication of the ENEOS REPORT Integrated Report 2022 (the “report” hereinafter).

In the report, which was developed with reference to the Guidance for Collaborative Value Creation, published by Japan’s Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry, we report on the progress of our second Medium-Term Management Plan (FY2020–2022), a milestone for achieving our Long-Term Vision to 2040, as well as initiatives for strengthening the competitiveness of our base businesses and developing and strengthening our growth businesses.

In addition, regarding the progress of our environmental, social, and governance (ESG) management, we have included our responses to material ESG issues, as well as information based on the recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD).

The following are featured in the ENEOS REPORT Integrated Report 2022.

- The ENEOS Group’s carbon neutrality plan (overview of the plan as well as CCS and hydrogen businesses)
- Initiatives toward transformation (digital transformation, securing and developing human resources)
- Risks and opportunities related to climate change (TCFD)
- Discussion among the Chairman of the Board and two outside directors (on topics such as initiatives for strengthening governance)

Going forward, we will continue to engage in active dialogue with our stakeholders through the disclosure of accurate and concise information. We will also contribute to the development of a sustainable society and the creation of a vibrant future through the continued fulfillment of our social responsibilities.
